EDITORIAL

While sitting in the cockpit of Riot III, moored in the middle of the Great Barrier Reef (at Bait Reef) one evening a couple of weeks ago, SSB in hand and sampling a little sashimied Spanish Mackerel, I reflected on what a great activity we enjoy in boating. There are so many aspects to the sport - the challenge of an offshore passage, the thrill of racing, catching a fish or just tucked up in a cosy anchorage enjoying a beverage or two with friends.

Add to this the design of your chosen vessel, the history of sailing and the characters involved make a rich mix indeed. In the SQ we try to capture some of these aspects which some of our boaties have experienced and share them with the wider Membership. This issue contains much of this diversity and I hope you enjoy reading of others experiences and knowledge.
