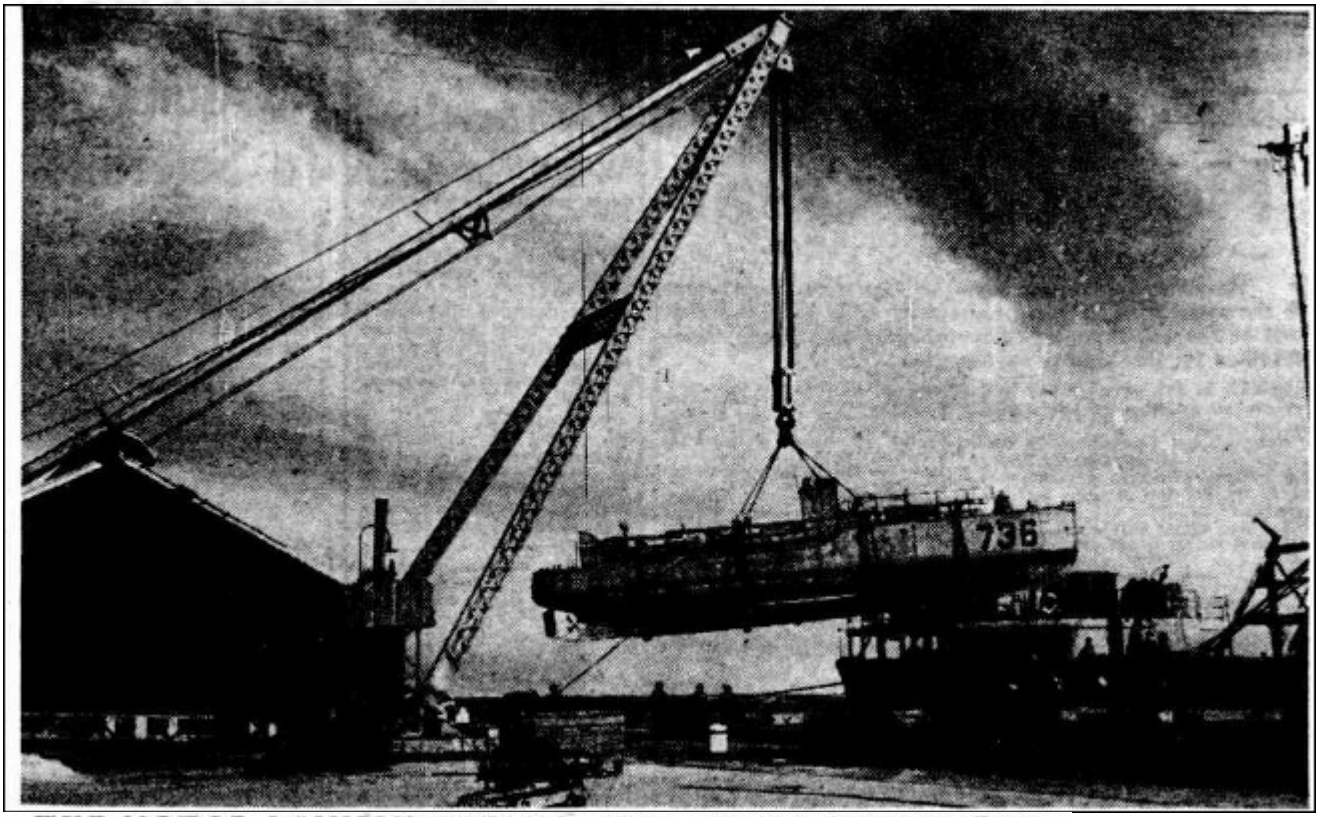
Motor Launches Come Back From Active Service



THE MOTOR LAUNCH GRELKA being unloaded from the River Derwent at Outer Harbor today. Grelka is owned by Professor M. L. Mitchell, and has been on loan to the Navy for war service with the "mosquito fleet" since 1942. Dr. A. L. Tostevin's Nyroca also returned to home waters today on board the River Derwent. Both launches have been operating on the West Australian coast.
