This could be a first class evening's entertainment, so fellows start looking over those old masterpieces and bring them along for all to enjoy, criticise or cry over.

The judge will remain anonymous until the night, so that he may not be tempted, beaten, blackmailed or threatened with marooning if these great prizes are not laid at the feet of one of the pirates in our midst.

Roll up and bring a friend, or two friends if you have as many as that.

ITS A PLASTIC WORLD.

It is impossible to live these days without being surrounded by the products of the chemical engineer - those objects of synthetic materials generally known as plastics. We, as yachtsmen, have yachts propelled by synthetic sails, controlled by synthetic ropes, and synthetic hulls are far from unknown. However, this article is directed to the ubiquitous plastic bag which comes aboard our yachts in so many forms. The important thing is to never ditch your plastic bags in the 'oggin' as the damn things are indestructible and they just wash about waiting to get caught up in something inconvenient such as prope'llor, water inlet, bilge pump and so on. Finally don't try to flush them through the machine in the wee cabin - remember it could be you who has to dismantle the works.
